

Social distancing and infection protection
without compromises

Infection protection crystal clear.

Safe direct contact – whether in the office or in public facilities,
REISS Calo hygiene protection walls keep you well protected:

- I Increased safety – discreet barrier to protect against droplet infection caused by coughing, sneezing or spitting
- I Uncompromised communication – clear acrylic glass for direct visual contact, with cutout for easy exchange of materials
- I Easy to use – as a stand-alone version for free positioning and flexible use wherever it is needed or as an extension to the table top

We know how to create offices.

Social distancing without compromises.

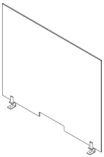

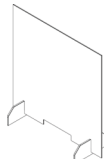

Sneeze guards made of clear acrylic glass from REISS Calo make direct contact with customers and partners or colleagues safer and much more relaxed. The almost invisible barriers provide a clear view while offering the best possible protection against droplet infection. A cutout enables an easy exchange of documents.

The acrylic glass is easy to clean and can also be disinfected with isopropanol if necessary. Recommendations for cleaning are available on our website in REISS Calo Sneeze Guard.

REISS Calo sneeze guards are available as an extension to the table top and as a freely positionable stand-alone version. The universal adapter for the table-top extension enables quick installation on 25 mm table tops.
